

www.textprovider.de – Creating unique content for the World Wide Web

For those proofreaders and writers who are not familiar with us, please allow us to introduce ourselves. We are a young company located in Bochum, Germany that specializes in creating texts for web pages. We have a continuous flow of various projects on a wide range of subjects with varying guidelines and conditions. Our customers are online agencies or website operators who need these texts for their own or for their clients' websites.

This is where you come in...

What's special about these texts? – Search engine optimisation with keywords

These texts are written according to a certain guideline, which is explained in the briefing you'll receive with your first email. For example, the length, content information and keyword frequency will be specified in the briefing. These keywords are chosen by our customers and usually correspond to search entries by users of Google and other search engines. To this end, it is important that each text be a new, individual composition (unique content) - there should be no other text like it in the online universe.

How are texts composed? – On a project-by-project basis

We conduct our projects with an online platform, with which you must first register (we'll send you the link). On this platform, you can upload and edit your texts, check their uniqueness and forward them to the proofreader. As a proofreader, your task is to review the texts in terms of spelling, grammar, legibility and adherence to the briefing guidelines and revise them as necessary. Unsatisfactory texts can be returned to the author with a commentary. Our platform can therefore be used simultaneously by all participating parties. However, it's also important that you keep your own list of the texts you've created or corrected.

How does payment work? – Money upon submission

We currently make payments when an invoice is issued. After a project is completed, you'll receive an email with an invoice template. For projects that continue for more than one month, you may submit your invoice at the end of the month. In the future, we plan on simply transferring the money owed directly to your bank account.

Are you interested? – Please contact us

If you're interested in the project described in the email accompanying this document, please follow the instructions in the email and contact the respective project manager.

We look forward to working with you!